

Vivago Oy and Team-Telecom have started cooperation in Switzerland

Vivago Oy, a Finnish healthcare technology company strengthens its presence in Europe by signing a new distribution agreement with Team-Telecom. Team-Telecom has joined Vivago's line-up of partners in Europe, becoming the official distributor for the Vivago range of products in French speaking Switzerland since 1st February 2023. Team-Telecom has a long experience in Swiss market with smart nurse call solutions that support preventive care and protect the elderly.

"We are looking forward to developing and strengthening our cooperation with Team-Telecom and together strengthening our position in the market" says Niina Vilkas, Vivago's CEO.

Vivago's unique care and wellbeing solutions ensure safety for tens of thousands of individuals daily

Automatic alarms and real-time wellbeing monitoring provided by the Vivago solution are unique in the European market and will provide the much-needed tool for the elderly to feel safe and for the healthcare professionals to provide better and personalised care.

Vivago has strongly developed its operations over the last years. Building the company's quality system and business management processes, as well as revamping the company's core business, have created new opportunities for Vivago both in its domestic and export markets. Vivago Vista software, the core of Vivago solution, is medical device approved and can be used as an aid in diagnostics and in monitoring the effectiveness of care. Expanding partner networks in European countries enables Vivago to grow into an internationally renowned health monitoring company.
